

Remember

the heady scent of daphne
the kitchen door &
winter's hibernating heart flung open to greet a new year.

deep purple clematis
small yellow narcissus
she greeted them on her knees spring's yearly benediction.

the bounty she gathered around her like a
young mother again
arms outstretched.

-Peggy Acott